Cotton Needs Dry Weather in Most Areas

Little Rock, Ark.—An extended period of warm weather is needed to permit large acreages of Arkansas cotton and soybeans to mature, as well as to speed up picking, according to the county agents' weekly crop reports released today by the Agricultural Extension Service.

Soybeans are producing better than was indicated during the dry August weather. Combining is just getting under way in most counties.

Cotton picking is well under way in Sevier county, with the first picking 40 per cent complete in bottom land areas. County Agent Victor Ivy said the yields were low but about average where insect control was good. Early corn is 70 per cent harvested, Ivy said. Soybeans harvested as hay were of good quality Ivy remarked.

Late corn in Little River county is below average, according to County Agent John L. Coley. Old corn harvest is about complete. Dry weather has reduced strawberry stands, Coley said.

Wet weather can cause a lot of damage to Hempstead county cotton if it continues, Oliver L. Adams, county agent, reported. Considerable cotton is on the ground because of stormy conditions.

Schools Close on Monday For Two County Meetings

Plans have been completed for a meeting of all school employees both Hempstead and Nevada counties to be held at the Prescott High School on Monday, October 8, beginning at 8:30.

Demonstrations in teaching will be carried on by various teachers from both counties and special consultants will be on hand for State Health Department, Department of Education, Henderson State Teachers College and others.

There will be special sessions for lunchroom workers, school custodians and bus drivers. These employees are especially urged to attend, as well as all teachers from both counties.

P. T. A. members or any other person interested in the school program in either county are invited to attend if they so desire.

All white schools of Hope will be closed all day Monday. Regular schedule will be resumed Tuesday.

Farmers Can Get Funds to Improve Lands

W. M. Sparks, county supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration, today said that farmers in Hempstead County are interested in developing their farms for a more diversified system of farming to meet rapid changing conditions in agriculture.

The Farmers Home Administration has been authorized to make farm development and farm enlargement loans to farm owners which will enable them to improve and develop their farms for carrying out a more diversified and balanced farm program, the supervisor explained.

This type of assistance will enable a large number of farmers in Hempstead county to develop their farms to the point that they can carry out a balanced farming and livestock program as recommended by the College of Agriculture, University of Arkansas.

The supervisor stated that a loan of this type was recently made to an owner of a 180-acre undeveloped farm which in its present condition was not capable of producing income for family living and debt repayment. The loan included funds to improve the dwelling and other outbuildings essential to farming operations.

Twelve hundred dollars of the loan was set up for development of permanent pasture, terracing, livestock watering ponds and necessary fencing. Technical assistance in land development work was furnished jointly by the County Supervisor and a representative of the Soil Conservation Service.

This is typical of many of the loans being made by the Farmers Home Administration which will enable farmers to carry out a balanced system of farming.

The Supervisor further explained that this loan was made by a private lender who received three percent interest on his investment and was insured by the Farmers Home Administration. The loan was made to the farmer at four percent interest, repayable over a period of 40 years.

Applications are being received in the Farmers Home Administration office, Hope. The county committee meets regularly and gives prompt attention to all applications.

5 UN Divisions Smash 4 Miles in Big Push

8th Army Headquarters, Korea, Oct. 4 (UP)—Five tanked United Nations divisions smashed ahead up to four miles from their jumpoff positions today in the biggest Allied offensive since the Korea truce talks began.

Canadian troops of the new British Commonwealth division paced the advance on the second day of the offensive flanking along a 40-mile front stretching across the western half of Korea.

The Canadian 25th brigade seized its hill objectives west of Yonchon against light resistance. It pushed the Canadians' line three to four miles north of the positions from which they lashed out at the onset Wednesday dawn.

Elsewhere along the offensive front, however, fanatic Chinese and North Korean Communists put up bitter resistance and in two cases forced slight U. N. withdrawals.

The Reds were making their principal stand along a 10-mile sector from west of Yonchon to Chorwon. An 8th army briefing officer said the fighting at some points west of Yonchon was "fairly rough."

The Chinese and North Koreans fought to the death from bunkers and deep entrenchments, some of them dug into the sheer sides of rocky cliffs on the mountainous front.

U. N. tanks ranging up to 32-ton British centurions moved up to blast bunkers pointblank. Flamethrowers hurled liquor fire through gun apertures to cremate the defenders.

The 8th Army was assaulting the enemy's "Little Siegfried line," designed to protect the main north-west highways in western Korea and perfected during the lull in the fighting which followed the start of the Kaesong truce talks.

The U. N. assault was described officially as a "limited offensive." But it appeared "limited" only in that it was not designed to carry all the way to the Manchurian frontier.

The whole western and west-central fronts from Korangpo in the west to the approaches to Pyongyang at the apex of the old "iron triangle" were ablaze.

The U. S. 1st Cavalry division near the center of the offensive line fought all day Thursday without reporting any substantial gain. Its 5th regiment fell back slightly under 300 rounds of enemy artillery and mortar fire northwest of Yonchon.

The 7th regiment also reported heavy resistance as of 3 p. m. (1 a. m. EST) north of Yonchon.

West of Chorwon, the Communists launched two counter-attacks against the U. S. 3rd Division. Artillery dispersed the first enemy group of 200, but the second counter-attack by 300 Reds forced a slight American withdrawal.

Northwest of Chorwon, Puerto Rican troops made limited advances against light resistance.

Also in action were the U. S. 25th Division and South Korean 1st Division. Americans, British, Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders, Greeks, Turks and South Koreans also were battling at the enemy's line.

The sudden evaporation of Communist resistance in front of the Canadians was in marked contrast to the bitter resistance they encountered on the opening day of the offensive.

The Princess Patricia light infantry regiment had captured a peak in fierce hand-to-hand fighting Wednesday, only to be thrown off by a sharp Communist counter-attack. The Canadians stormed back up the hill and retook it.

Russia Explodes A-Bomb, New Arms Discussed

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP)—Word that Russia has exploded another atomic bomb, coupled with other developments at home and abroad, raised anew today the question whether atomic warfare might flare in Korea.

There Russia's satellite troops and United Nations forces are in stalemate battle; bitter fighting and mounting casualties bring victory no nearer for either side. Is resort to atomic arms contemplated? There are these facts:

1. A White House announcement that "another atomic bomb has recently been exploded within the Soviet Union" and that Russia, despite professions that her atomic energy program is only for peaceful purposes, "is continuing to make atomic weapons."

2. An assertion by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), member and former chairman of the senate house atomic committee, that powerful new atomic weapons are available for use in Korea; that he favors using them; but that it is a military decision.

3. The claim by Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, while on a Far East war zone trip, that U. N. forces can fight the war to a successful "military conclusion" if truce talks fail finally. The general did not make any explanation of how this would be done against a numerically superior enemy. Bradley left Washington last Wednesday night, presumably before the report on the latest Russian atomic explosion was made. He was due back today.

Except for the single opening sentence saying another bomb has been exploded within the Soviet Union, the White House statement issued at direction of President Truman contained no details.

The balance of the brief statement was devoted to stressing "again the necessity for that effective, enforceable international control of atomic energy which the United States and a large majority of the members of the United Nations support."

However, White House use of the phrase "atomic bomb" was significant. The President announced two years ago — on Sept. 23, 1949 — that evidence had been obtained of an atomic explosion. "He cautiously refrained from use of the word 'bomb.' This time, the American scientists whose duty it is to maintain constant vigil for such things, apparently were sure it was an actual bomb."

Apparently evidence of the release of atomic energy into the upper atmosphere, where traces are picked up by delicate instruments even though the explosion may occur thousands of miles distant, was fortified by an actual record of the explosive shock. A congressional source said a seismographic record, like that used for earthquakes, was obtained and showed the explosion was "very successful."

It appeared to have occurred within the last few days.

And it was of the nuclear fission type, not a hydrogen bomb explosion, it was explained in other authoritative quarters.

There was also some evidence that the Russians had failed in another atomic explosive test before the successful one announced by the White House. Experts in a position to know said there seemed to be evidence that the first of the two experimental bombs "fizzled," failing to produce an actual detonation.

A Hempstead Circuit Court jury today found Wallace Reed, 40, guilty of leaving the scene of an accident and fined him $100. The case was appealed from municipal and involved a truck and motorcycle accident near Fulton.

Reed changed his not guilty plea to guilty of driving a vehicle with improper lights and was fined $25 and costs.

Booker T. Maxwell, negro, entered a plea of guilty to burglary and was given 5-year suspended sentence.

Red Zumwalt, charge reduced from aggravated assault to assault and battery, plea of guilty, fined $25 and costs.

British Angry Over Loss of Iran Oil Refinery, Shocked by Dive of British Dollar

London, Oct. 4 (AP) A tense house of commons gathered today to wind up its affairs, angry over the loss of the oil refinery at Abadan and shocked by the nose dive of Britain's gold and dollar assets.

Members are scheduled to hear a proclamation from the king dissolving parliament and clearing the way for the Oct. 25 elections.

Both the loss of Iranian oil and the country's financial plight are expected to be hot issues.

There were signs of such bitterness among the members over the government's abandonment of the huge Abadan plant that the impartial speaker of the house was prepared to halt any effort to discuss it in order to preserve traditional decorum.

While Britain was staggering at the loss of Abadan, its single greatest foreign investment, the chancellor of the exchequer, Hugh Gaitskell, came out with more bad news.

He told the country last night that gold and dollar reserves of the British-banked sterling area had shrunk by $580,000,000 in the past three months and were now only $3,269,000,000. Members of the sterling bloc are Burma, Iraq, Iceland and all members of the commonwealth except Canada.

This is the worst economic position Britain has been in since the crisis of 1949 forced devaluation of the pound from 4.83 to $2.80.

What the gap actually means is that these countries bought $580,000,000 worth of things which must be paid for in gold or dollars than they sold for those currencies.

The Conservative Daily Telegraph indicated the opposition keynote in an editorial today which declared "what Gaitskell did not explain was why steps were not taken by the government long ago to strengthen the country's finances so that they would be better able to meet the difficulties that plainly lay ahead."

The Times soberly called it "indeed a dramatic reversal of fortune."

Britain owes the U. S. $4,350,000,000 for long-term loans and for loans arranged in 1948. Gaitskell disclosed that the first installment of capital will be paid Dec. 31, but the government has made no decision on paying the U. S. $87,000,000 interest on loans.

Loss of Iranian oil means that a large part of the fuel for the sterling area must now be bought in dollar regions, thus adding to the difficulties.

Raymond Blackburn, an independent member of parliament, has served notice that he will ask Prime Minister Clement Attlee "what action he is taking to redeem his failure to honor his word in that he did not fulfill his promise that this house should be recalled if his majesty's government accepted complete evacuation of Abadan."

Attlee pledged in July that a rear-guard of Britons would be retained in Abadan.

Many believed his statement implied it would be done by force if necessary.

Political quarters indicated there is little chance Attlee would volunteer a statement on the issue.

Firemen Try to Pump Gas Well

Dallas, Oct. 4 (AP) — Firemen tried pumping a mysterious refined gasoline well in downtown Dallas today.

They drilled a 30-foot hole beside a modern 16-story building in an attempt to trap and pump off the fuel.

Twenty gallons of gasoline have been flowing daily into the sub-basement of the Rio Grande National Life Insurance building, creating a fire hazard.

Fire Marshal W. C. Burns thinks gasoline is coming from some underground storage tank. But he has been unable to locate any tanks nearby.

First attempts at pumping the new well were only partly successful.

If the well works and the seepage stops, building Manager H. E. Walker will be out of the free gasoline business. He has collected about 300 gallons to use in his car or to give away to friends.

Lott Keffer, district supervisor of the state controllers office, said Walker is liable for a state tax of four cents a gallon.

Said Walker, "If he (Keffer) will tell me where this gasoline is coming from, I'll be glad to pay that tax."

Viva Edd Thrash, 1210 E. Main and Josie Burroughs, 924 E. 4th, of Hope, have been elected officers of the Y. W. A. General Council at Ouachita College. Both Sides in Peace Proposal, Disagree on Site

Tokyo, Oct. 4 (AP)—In an abrupt exchange of messages today, Red and Allied commanders each proposed that Korean truce talks be resumed immediately—but disagreed on a site.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway injected a new note into the situation by telling the Reds to pick a new site—as long as it was in no-man's-land. If it looked to him, he said, armistice negotiations could resume at once.

The talks were broken off abruptly by the Communists Aug. 28.

The Reds started today's exchange by suddenly breaking a week-long silence. As a new, bitter offensive raged within 60 miles of Kaesong, the answer was a message from the North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung, they said, the suggestion was "devoid of reason."

The Communists said it would provide no new assurance that neutrality agreements could be observed. Instead they suggested "Both sides immediately resume the conference at Kaesong."

At the first meeting X X X, appropriate machinery should be established to stipulate a strict agreement concerning the neutralization of Kaesong.

"The hours after announcing the text of the Communist communication, Ridgway replied. He told North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Hua.

"I have already made clear to you my views regarding the unsuitability of Kaesong as a conference site. X X X. Satisfactory conditions for the resumption of the armistice talks can only be insured by moving the conference site to an area where it is under the exclusive control of neither side."

"Since you reject my suggestion to meet at Songhyon, I propose that our delegations meet at a site selected by you and acceptable to me, approximately midway between our respective front lines where the armistice discussion can be promptly resumed."

Ridgway's answer thus gave the Reds the surprising privilege of selecting the truce site. But what he held to the United Nations command's stand that Kaesong was longer in the running.

British Leave Refinery at Abadan

Abadan, Iran, Oct. 4 (AP)—British oilmen completed their withdrawal from Abadan today and the chief of Iran's oil nationalization program said they would never return, except possibly as Iranian company employees.

Hussein Makki, right hand man of Premier Mohammad Mossadeq, said the Iranian navy would shoot it out if any British warships tried to blockade oil shipments from Iran. The British claim the oil stored in Abadan is the property of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company, which Iran seized.

But an informed British source here said even the British navy had to keep two destroyers anchored off the refinery area after the Cruiser withdrawal. Earlier plans had been that British troops would leave the refinery.

Ten of the top Anglo-Iranian company executives left by automobile for Basra, Iraq, this morning. They were to leave soon after by plane from Basra to London, along with Maj. C. F. Copper, British command general in Abadan, who arranged to leave Abadan in a launch. He has been ordered out of the country by Iran, and Consul L. G. Finney already is here to take his place.

The British manager for the refineries, K. B. Ross, said before leaving that Premier Mossadeq was "digging Iran's grave." Most of the other British felt the same way.

Ross indicated to reporters he believed the 40 years of the Anglo-Iranian company in Iran are all over, and the British never would return as company men.

Alie Mason, acting AIOC chief of Abadan, commented on leaving that "as a commercial firm we have been hitting our head against a brick wall for the last six months."

"It became a political issue beyond our control," he said of Mossadeq's concerted drive to nationalize the country's oil.

The departure of the executives, rear guard of 315 British employees at the great refinery, left the Abadan oilfields and refinery completely in Iranian hands.

French Forced Back Before Chinese Drive

Salon, Indochina, Oct. 4 (AP)—French forces in fierce battle have hunched back the column of Vietnamese troops which was advancing on Lai Chau, 100 miles northwest of Hanoi.

Lai Chau is the capital of the T'aih federation.

Announcing the repulse of the attack today, French army headquarters said that hard-fought battles threw back the Communist-led Vietnamese units in disorder after a bitter struggle for control of a mountain pass leading to Lai Chau.

The Vietnamese column retreated toward Binhai, an outpost town northeast of Lai Chau, which the French lost Saturday after the Vietnamese army launched its expected full offensive.

The Vietnamese drive on the key French position in the northwest corner of Tonkin halted at the entrance to the mountain pass of Pansampan.

The mountain pass is the main door to Lai Chau through jungle-covered terrain and is about 20 miles from the primitive city which lies in a deep valley.

There was no statement of casualties for the action in which an estimated three Vietnamese battalions were involved.

A French communiqué claimed the Vietnamese drive on Nghia Lo resulted in enemy casualties totalling 300 dead and several hundred wounded. Advance elements of the column compelling an estimated ten battalions were halted nine miles north of the town.

French army headquarters gave much of the credit for the Vietnamese reverse at Nghia Lo to French bombers and fighter planes which have been hitting the Vietnamese column continuously for days.

The outnumbered defenders of Nghia Lo consist of two Thai partisan battalions well entrenched.

French B-29 bombers and Hellcat and Bearcat fighters also struck at Vietnamese concentrations northwest of Santay about 50 miles northwest of Hanoi.

It was the first Vietnamese concentration reported on the Red river delta since the rains began to slacken last week.

Young Demos Open Meet at St. Louis

St. Louis, Oct. 4 (AP)—The eighth annual convention of Young Democrats of America opened today with some 2,000 delegates gathered to watch an energetic, three-day race develop for the presidency.

Saturday's election holds the immediate interest, although clashes between northern and southern delegates may arise tonight when the meeting reaches the resolution-making stage.

The three candidates for the presidency are Richard Nelson, 35, Chicago and Springfield, Ill.; Charles McNamara, 37, of Charleston, S. C.; and Earl Warren, 37, of California. N. C. Nelson is an executive assistant to Illinois Governor

Wm. D. W. Gilmore of Illinois. McNamara holds the office of assistant secretary of the Young Democrats of America, which position carries much political prestige for next year's election.

A mandatory one-term election of the vice-president candidate will be held. They are Miss Mary McLeod Bethune, 39, of Greensburg, Miss. Camille Klein, 30, of St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Lucy Rood, 30, of St. Louis, Mo., and a fourth candidate, as yet unnamed, will be elected.

Miss McNamara of Arkansas delivered the keynote speech to Saturday. Vice President Truman will be the main speaker at the dinner-dance on Sunday.

Jonesboro, Oct. 4 (AP)—A cotton gin at nearby Lugo City was destroyed by fire yesterday, causing damage estimated at $50,000, by Manager Bill Sloan.

Cause of the fire was not known. Twenty bales of cotton which were stored in the gin were saved, but one bale was destroyed.

University to Build New Law Building

Fayetteville, Oct. 3 (AP)—Construction of a new school of law building at the University of Arkansas will get under way immediately, it was announced today.

The building committee of the board of trustees authorized the signing of contracts.

The campaign for the needed extra funds for construction of the building is still approximately $7,000 short of the total amount needed.

For certain facilities originally planned in the final contract because of the shortage of funds.

The building will cost just under $100,000.

The general construction contract is held by the E. V. Bird Construction company of Fayetteville.

Plane Flight Is Finally Canceled

Philadelphia, Oct. 4 (P) — The flight of a chartered airliner enroute from Oakland, Calif., to Newark, N. J., was cancelled early today because of unfavorable weather in the Newark region.

E. L. Dillon of New York City, the pilot, said some 35 passengers would go on to their destinations by train.

The plane, a two-engine craft operated by New England Air Express, Inc., left Oakland Monday night, but was delayed several times along the way for reasons not fully explained. The plane landed at International airport here shortly before 2 a. m. EST.

Edward Seltz, Jr., of Polcroft, Pa., a veteran of the 17th infantry regiment on emergency furlough from Korea, said the plane left Oakland two hours behind schedule with more than 50 passengers aboard. He said many of these left the ship at various stops and that about 17 additional passengers were taken on at Chicago yesterday.

Dillon said none of the original crew remained for the last leg of the flight. He and the co-pilot, Richard Whittington, Miami, and Steward Rose, Baltimore, New York, took over at Chicago.

After the plane left Oakland, all went well until it reached Hutchinson, Kas., where the crew left without explanation. After about nine hours the flight was resumed, but the plane stopped at Fairfax airport, Kansas City, Kas., and again the crew left without explanation.

Members of the new crew said official explanation of the delays would have to come from the New England Air Express. They said they understood, however, that the original crew left the plane because it said it had not been paid.

In New York, a spokesman for the major air coach system said the delays were the result of a dispute between his firm and the New England Air Express.

EARLY ARRIVALS

DOROTHY DIX Backbiting

Dear Miss Dix: I have an older, married sister who has a habit of finding very annoying. She is constantly making criticisms of everything I wear, do or say. She comes to visit my mother and makes the same sort of remarks about all her in-laws and neighbors. Worst of all, she is always finding fault with her husband, who is really very good and to whom she is actually devoted. She just can't seem to resist these cutting remarks, all of which my mother believes. Consequently, mother doesn't have too high an opinion of her son-in-law, and he really does deserve better. Can I do anything to make my sister see where she is wrong?

ROSE
Answer: Your sister is beginning herself with two fallacies—one that she is possessed of a striking sense of humor, and that her sarcasm is really brilliant wit. The other is that by belittling others, she is herself elevated to a superior position. Actually, she is proving herself to be not only devoid of wit, but of the ability to discuss anything intelligently.

Those with small minds talk about people, those with better intellects converse of things and events, and those happily possessed of superior intelligence discuss ideas. So, when a person can talk of nothing but the frailties of relatives and friends, she can be immediately marked as a woman of low intelligence and even less character. As for a woman who shows her disloyalty to a good mate by unjust—or for that matter even just—criticism to her friends and relatives, well, she certainly does not deserve the blessing she has.

Would Infuriate Her Husband
Your sister had better be careful lest her husband learn of her tendency to belittle him. A man can frequently forgive a larger infidelity more easily than he can the seemingly small fault of holding him up to ridicule.

I am happy to see, Rose that you hold these habits of your sister up to scorn and are not likely to follow her example. Malicious gossip frequently begins with just the sort of backbiting to which your sister is prone, and develops into actual defamation of character.

If you can make your sister realize that her actions are not admirable, but reprehensible, she may for the sake of her own reputation change them.

Dear Miss Dix: I have a problem which has me considerably worried. It is my gray hair. I'm only 27 and people take me for 47. I am very self-conscious because of it, and am thinking of dying or bleaching it. I am not married, and feel that my hair may keep men from becoming interested in me. Will it?

R. D.
Answer: Gray or white hair no longer is the sure sign of old age that it once was. A well-coiffed head of gray hair can be very attractive and should add to, rather than detract from, your appearance. However, since you are so self-conscious about the condition, there is no harm in either dying or bleaching. But you must remember one thing. Once you begin the process of changing your hair color you must continue. It can be an arduous and an expensive job if done professionally. Coloring at home must be done carefully, or you'll wind up with a head of straggly hair that will be far less attractive than your present color.

If you are an interesting person, well groomed, well read, well informed on the world's events, you should have no trouble attracting men, whether your hair is gray or not.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Two weeks after my marriage, we went to live with my husband's grandmother, who raised him. She was 89 years old and bedridden. I cared for her until I became pregnant then we took her to her daughter's and moved to a place of our own. Her daughter left the state, and so we took her back. She was much better and I don't mind caring for her. Now, however, she wants my husband's brother, wife and child to come and live with us. I don't see how we can all manage in one house. I'm 23, and really completely tied down with grandma's care, but I want her to feel as though someone really wants her.

LORNA

Answer: You deserve stars in your heavenly crown for the care and devotion you are giving this old lady. You are doing enough; don't take on the burden of an extra family in the house. If your husband is fed up with the care of his grandmother, you'd better let

Winning Stock Sells for High Price

Little Rock, Oct. 3 (AP) — The highest above-the-market-price in history will be paid to 4-H and FFA youths who sell their prize winning stock at the big auction sale of beef and swine Saturday at the Arkansas Livestock show.

James N. Cook, chairman of the Greater Little Rock Chamber of Commerce's livestock auction committee, said today that pledges have been received already from merchants over the state and in the city to guarantee this record price.

For the first time this year owners of the grand champion steer and the grand champion barrow will be permitted to keep all the money bid for their champions.

In the past they have had to split up a portion of their "take" with the other youths placing cattle or swine in the auction. This was to prevent any of the youngsters from having to sell their stock at the market price or close to it.

However, the higher pledges this year have assured all of those entering stock in the auction a premium price for their efforts.

Last year 94 calves and 175 hogs were sold at the auction, weighing a total of 129,815 pounds, for a total of $41,095.66.

Louisiana Demos Bar Communists

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 3 (AP) — Negroes may now vote legally in Louisiana Democratic primaries but Communists are barred.

The state Democratic central committee meeting here yesterday changed its rules of qualifications for voters and candidates.

Where the rules formerly said a voter or a candidate "shall be a white person," the new rule says only that he or she "shall be registered as a member of the democratic party."

But it adds that the voter must have never been "a member of or associated with any Communist or Communist-front organization listed as such by the congressional committee on un-American activities or the department of justice."

It also provides: "Nor shall he have advocated any doctrines in violation of the constitution of the state of Louisiana or of the United States of America, nor shall he have advocated any such doctrines or matters of government contrary thereto."

Negroes have voted in Democratic primaries in Louisiana for years despite the former rule. There are some 100,000 of them registered as Democrats in the state.

Curley Not to Solicit Votes

Boston, Oct. 4, (AP) — James Michael Curley, one of the last of the old-line political "bosses," said last night he would neither campaign nor solicit votes for himself in the coming Boston mayoralty election.

Mayor John B. Hynes, Curley's opponent in the Nov. 6 election, said "I consider this a bonafide withdrawal."

The 76-year-old Curley said, however, he couldn't legally withdraw from the race "because my name is still on the ballot."

He added that if the mere fact of his name being on the ballot was enough to elect him he would have to accept the office.

"I would have no alternative," he said. "It would be my duty."

Hynes and Curley were nominated last week in a four-cornered race with the present mayor topping Curley, 108,414 to 77,268 votes.

Two years ago, Hynes, then seeking his first elective office, unseated Curley by 12,000 votes.

Farm Prices Show Slight Drop

Little Rock, Oct. 3 (AP) — Average prices received by Arkansas farmers for their products declined 0.3 per cent from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15, the crop reporting service said today.

This slight decline followed a more pronounced decrease each month beginning in June.

The crop reporting service said a higher price for cotton lint, which was up 3.6 per cent was mainly responsible for holding the all-commodity index up to practically the same level as Aug. 15.

Stock Show Audience Sets Record

Little Rock, Oct. 4 (AP)—A veterans day crowd of 50,000 yesterday visited the Arkansas Livestock show, setting an all-time attendance record for the show's 12-year history.

Previous record was some 40, 000 customers on veterans' day at the 1950 stock show.

Officials were confident that this year's show would draw the highest attendance for the entire six days. Visitors for the first three days totaled 110,742, last year's record overall attendance was 290, 000.

Judging of livestock exhibits continued with a Fort Smith youth meeting his elders in the open division with the grand champion Jersey female.

David Fry, 17, entered a six-year-old cow to take top honors in his division.
Billy Joe Villines, 22, of Harrison, showed the junior champion Jersey male, and Joe Elean of Waldo had the first prize winners in classes for three-year-old and four-year-old cows.

Orville Stogenthaler of Diamond Grove farm, Fort Smith, had the grand champion and Jersey bulls with a two-year-old animal, Edwin McDonald of Harrison had the junior champion.

First place for bull calves born between July 1, 1950, and April 1, 1951 went to Tall Timber Jersey of Polaski county, Tall Timber also took first place for junior yearling heifers, aged cows and yearling heifers.

The Arkansas Artificial Breeding association had the first place winner in aged bulls.

Boat cattle judging was completed with the Fades Angus farm, Camden, showing the grand champion in the Aberdeen Angus contest.

BREAKING AND ENTERING—That might be the charge against this male which went out of control and smashed through a window into a basement apartment in Chicago. No one was hurt. Here Vincent Krauth and his daughter, Karen, neighbors of the apartment owner, survey the damage.

New Ceilings on Beef Bring Price Hike

By The Associated Press
New retail ceilings on beef hiked the prices of many popular cuts by several cents a pound this week and reduced the prices of a few others, mostly the more expensive items like porterhouse steaks.

Pork, veal and lamb held generally unchanged. Frying and broil-ing chickens were one to six cents a pound lower in many areas as production continued heavy. Eggs and butter remained about steady.

On most fresh produce counters, advances in the prices of cabbage, melons, tomatoes, grapefruit and plums were offset by minor reductions in carrots, cauliflower, green peas, oranges and pears. These changes reflected seasonal supply trends.

While the office of price stabilization estimated that the average boost on choice beef—the large-est-selling grade—probably averaged not more than one cent a pound, the increases looked sizable in some cases. Rib roasts, for example, were up five to eight cents a pound in major chains across the country. Lean hamburger rose to 12 per cent fat rose two to five cents a pound.

While the beef price pattern on the whole was upward for the consumer, the changes differed from area to area and store to store under pricing regulations.

The agriculture department reported that production of broiling and frying chickens is expected to be substantially larger this month than last.

The report said that in embezzlement cases investigated by the FBI there have been 115 convictions, and that 397 other prosecutions are pending.

The FBI director said the public can help by promptly checking bank statements and reporting to banking officials any irregularities noted in the entry dates for deposits and withdrawals.

Bank Embezzlements Alarm FBI Chief

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today described as alarming the recent series of bank embezzlements, running into several millions of dollars.

Hoover said in a statement that bank embezzlements for the first eight months of 1951, involving 533 cases, showed an 8.1 per cent increase over the same period of last year when 491 cases were announced.

Max Kelley of the Carnall 4-H club near Fort Smith won first place in the junior division, offering three fat barrows.

Hayley brothers of Lake City, Craighead county, had the grand champion boar and the champion market barrows among spotted porcelain eldus.

Paragould's Kirby farm had the grand champion red poll bull and the grand champion red poll female.

In the swine judging, Arthur McDonald Jr., of Paragould showed the grand champion fat barrow of all breeds a poland china.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor of Pleasant Valley farm near Little Rock, had the grand champion run in the sheep division. C. W. Beck-ins of Hilltop, southwest of Harrison, showed the grand champion
ewe. Both were Hampshire.

In the 4-H sheep show, A. W.
Howerton of Berryville, had the champion ram and ewe, Jim Mc-Cloud of Hot Springs showed the champion ram and ewe in the Future Farmers of America contest.

11 Refugees Arrive in U. S.

Fort Pierce, Fla., Oct. 4 (AP)—A leaking boat with 11 refugees from behind the "Iron Curtain" made port here yesterday and the passengers asked for asylum in the United States.

The immigration service arranged to place the group—four men, four women and three children—aboard a train to be taken to the detention station on Ellis Island in New York harbor.

Their boat, an auxiliary schooner of Swedish registry named the Walrus, had a hole in its side and was leaking badly when it docked.
Their food supply was down to emergency rations.

The refugees reported they left Sweden July 22 and made a brief stop in the Dominican republic.
None had travel papers.

All the passengers were Eston-ians except one Polish woman.
Numerous other groups have made the hazardous Atlantic crossing in small craft since the Russian move into Eastern Europe. A total of 488 refugees from Soviet-dominated territory have arrived in small boats since 1945. Charitable and church groups have sponsored many of them for permanent residence in this country. None has been returned.

Another Teller Is an Embezzler

New Kensington, Pa., Oct. 3 (AP)— FBI agents have arrested a third banker in this small western Pennsylvania town on a charge of embezzlement.

The arrest was the second at the First National bank of New Kensington and the seventh in western Pennsylvania and West Virginia within a year.

It raises the total bank defalcations to nearly $3,000,000.
The latest to be arrested is Otto R. Grofend, 51-year-old teller at the First National bank and an employee there since 1933. He is accused of embezzling $16,000.

The FBI said Grofend used the bank's money to play slot machines.

Governors Talk Over Crime Probe

Gallatinburg, Tenn., Oct. 3 (U.P.)—State governors in annual convention here today debated the question of exactly how much help they need from the federal government to suppress organized crime.

Most of them agreed that law enforcement is essentially a state and local problem but that some federal help is needed to combat large-scale racketeering which crosses state lines.

The governor's conference has traditionally taken a stand in favor of the highest degree of local autonomy and against centralized power in the federal government.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson, (D-Ill.) told today's session on law enforcement that it should stick to that principle as far as possible.

"I don't think there is a county in the country where the local officials couldn't enforce gambling laws if they wanted to," Stevenson said.

"I don't think the time has come when we must assume that local law enforcement has collapsed."

Gov. Herman Talmadge, (D-Ga.) said he thought local officials could take care of "the normal routine of casual crime, such as chicken stealing, murder and assault and battery" but insisted that "when organized gambling crosses state lines, it is up to the federal gov-

Barton Named to Building Committee

Washington, Oct. 3 (AP)—Col. T. H. Barton, chairman of the board of the Lion Oil Co., El Dorado, Ark., has been chosen to head a building committee for the construction of Cordell Hull hall at Nashville, Tenn.

The hall, part of the Cordell Hull foundation, will house historic papers of the former secretary of state, and possibly a portrait of him and the bust that now is in the Tennessee state capitol.

The announcement was made yesterday after Frank K. Houston, New York banker and chairman of the Hull foundation the vice-chairman, Chancellor Harvie Branscom of Vanderbilt university; Winston Dustin, executive secretary, and Barton, a trustee, visited Hull on his 80th birthday.

The four officials told Hull they were making progress in their efforts to establish the foundation to carry out his "good neighbor policy" through education.

The foundation will center its program in Nashville, in co-operation with Vanderbilt, Scarritt and Peabody colleges.

The oath prescribed for a President taking office is outlined in Section 1 of Article III of the U.S. Constitution.

ment to take a hand."

Talmadge added that in Georgia there is none of the organized racketeering such as was investigated recently by the senate's Kefauver crime committee.

The session was marked by another outburst from Sen. J. Bracken Lee, (R-Utah), who demanded that the convention lay aside what he called trivial problems and take up such major issues as inflation, high taxes and integrity in government.

Lee threatened yesterday to walk out of the convention unless it devoted some time to those subjects.

"I don't think organized crime would amount to anything if you've got integrity in government," he insisted.

ALL THAT NIGHT WE DROVE THROUGH

a high plains blizzard. By dawn the ponies and their riders were caked inches deep with frozen snow. Gulping pemican as we rode, we pushed on, crossing the Missouri above Fort Sully, following the Teton River across the Bad Lands, reaching its headwaters two night later. Striking the Cheyenne the next day we got clearing weather, sundown raising the jutting headlands of the Gate of the Buffalo far ahead.

Here we parted company, Yellow Bird and the eight braves riding west for the lodges of Crazy Horse.

Two days later I arrived under the broad hulk of the Gate of the Buffalo.

Scattered within eight feet of me were the bodies of several Indians, all stripped and scalped. The body at my feet had run a bull elk with me the month previous.

It had had a name then; Heyoka, The Clown. These were Sioux.

Nor was that all. Heyoka had been a Fox Lodge brave, one of the police detail for Mesa Valley.

So Slatemeyer had Star. I knew this as surely as I breathed. It was impossible at the time to imagine how he had made the capture.

Later, when I knew it appeared entirely simple. Yet pure simplicity is frequently the hallmark of genius and in his violent way Slatemeyer was undoubtedly a genius.

Arriving three days ahead of me he had placed his Crow in ambush, sent Mouse into the valley with

ARM AMPUTATED

Muskegon, Mich., Oct. 3 (AP)—Herbert Lee Engler, Jr., 15 of Ludington lost his left arm because of a football injury.

The boy broke his arm in practice at Ludington High school last Friday. An infection developed and amputation became necessary.

Engler, a high school freshman, is recovering from the operation.

Gen. Bradley Homeward Bound

Tokyo, Oct. 3 (AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley left Tokyo today after a foreshortened visit that included a two-day tour of the Korean battle front.

Shortly before his departure for Washington the chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff held a secret conference with top American military leaders here amid fading hopes of a negotiated truce in Korea.

The meeting with army, air and navy commanders was presumed to be the most significant session Bradley held in his six-day visit.

Bradley commented only: "It was a very interesting trip—very helpful to us."

His plane left at 7:30 p. m. (5:20 a. m., EST). Bradley was accompanied by his wife and Charles Bohlen, U.S. state department expert on Russia.

War clouds grew darker over Korea.

For the seventh day Red leaders ignored a United Nations proposal to reopen armistice talks at a new site in no-man's-land.

Tokyo sources said the Reds have waited too long to make a favorable reply to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's suggestion to hold sessions near Songhyon, about six miles from Red-controlled Kaesong, the former site.

These sources said they believe truce talks actually are broken off. There has been no meeting since Aug. 22.

Shortly before Bradley's departure, and after his high level conference, Ridgway's headquarters announced a "partial blackout" of news from Korea. This usually is an indication of major military developments.

Ever since it first was announced that Bradley would "survey the entire situation" in this command speculation has been rife that the U.S. top military boss was bringing plans for new and bigger operations. Observers suggested these would be designed to impress the Reds with a realization that they were certain to lose the Korean war.

One thing that has puzzled observers most is why the Allies failed to drive forward on the western front in an effort to encircle Kaesong. The Reds insist that is the logical place to resume armistice talks.

One of the heaviest Allied artillery barrages of the war today reached within 12 miles of Kaesong.

United Nations military commanders repeatedly have emphasized that Allied military might has long been ready to take over with gunpowder if the Communists decided they didn't want to talk truce again.

Bradley himself said the U. N. is prepared to bring the Korean war to a successful conclusion if talk fails.

There was no announcement of what was said at Bradley's final and largest conference in Tokyo.

Ridgway supreme U. N. commander, had the group of generals and admirals meeting with him. They met in an office lined with battle maps.

Also present was Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, commander of the U. S. Far East naval forces and chief U. N. negotiator at the disrupted truce parleys. Bradley had conferred twice separately with Joy.

fires or camp-sign, no pony dust. It was possible I had missed him, also that he had skirted the hills, turning north. But the best bet was he had gone due south to strike the headwaters of the White, this stream running east to empty into the Missouri at Fort Kiowa only 10 miles above his camp. In reducing his course to this choice, I took into consideration his precious whiskey. Slatemeyer wouldn't want to be absent from his stock-in-trade any longer than necessary.

An hour's journey on Hussein brought me to the end of the territory pelted by last night's storm. On a hunch I ran out a quartering movement, striking a broad trail within 15 minutes. I counted no more than 25 ponies and knew I had Slatemeyer in front of me.

Another 15 minutes and a still broader trail of at least 50 ponies struck in from the west. Crazy Horse, too, was ahead of me.

A new thought arose to frost the warmth of this discovery. Trusting the generalship of the great Oglala I could not help but remember he had the sanguine Yellow Bird along, together with 50 other Fox Lodgers, all doubtless loyal to Star but possibly even more intrigued with the prospect of arranging for brother lodge member, Mouse, to lose his dues-paying status instantly.

I could guess the temper of the trailing Sioux, imagine quite easily the mad spate of "hookkeys" which would announce their sighting of Slatemeyer's band—and the ensuing rush which would just as surely mean death for Star as for the whiskey runner and his crew.

The first thing an Indian will do when hard pushed is abandon all equipment save horse and gun. The second, kill any captives he has along. Even if Slatemeyer would win a Crow lance into the body of the Indian girl.

I put Hussein's heart and lungs on the auction block of necessity. Had my own life been at stake I might have held some reserve in him.

Revenue Chief to 'Eliminate Corruption'

Washington, Oct. 3 (U.P.)—Internal Revenue Commissioner John R. Dunlap said today President Truman has given him complete authority to eliminate corruption in his $50,000,000,000 a year tax collection agency.

The big trouble in getting the job done, he told congressional investigators, is a lack of adequately trained manpower.

Dunlap testified before a house ways and means subcommittee which is investigating the cases of St. Louis, Boston, and San Francisco tax collectors who have recently been dismissed from office or who have quit under fire.

The commissioner blamed the outside business activities of these collectors for the trouble in their offices. One of the collectors, Denis W. Delaney in Boston—is under indictment on charges of accepting money from outsiders to influence his official decisions.

Collectors in the 64 tax collection districts in the United States are appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the senate and may be removed from office only by the President.

Dunlap explained that in the past this may have hampered efforts to keep affairs of the bureau on a business-like basis. But he said that will no longer be the case in view of the full authority given him by Mr. Truman and Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder to get matters straightened out.

He said some of the non-career collectors have excellent records. But the only charges of corruption

Beverage Board to Hear Appeals

Little Rock, Oct. 3 (AP)—The alcoholic beverage control board will meet Oct. 11 to hear three appeals from decisions of executive Director George Callahan.

Dolly Shannon, El Dorado, has appealed from Callahan's refusal to issue her a retail beer sales permit. Hearing in this case was postponed from the last board meeting.

Oscar Eliton of Drinkley also has appealed rejection of a retail beer permit.

George Young of Clarendon asked reversal of a decision refusing him permission to transfer location of a retail liquor outlet.

Allied Troops in General Offensive

United Nations troops, Korea, Oct. 4 (U.P.)—United Nations troops attacked along two fronts of the Korean battlefield Wednesday and thrust at least two important task forces into enemy territory.

Blackouts covered details of the fighting.

Unopposed tank-led U.N. advance west of Choson, stalled Wednesday by fanatical Red resistance, rolled forward only after reinforcements went in and burned the Communists out of their positions with flame throwers.

American South Korean troops and British Commonwealth troops were reported in action, each of it at close quarters. Fighting raged across the front from the Yalu river in the west to Choson on the east coast. In the night the Reds almost fought the attacking Allies to a standstill.

In the air, however, 12 U. S. Shooting Stars—America's slowest jet—caught a dozen crack Communist MiG-15 jet fighters over North Korea, probably shot down two of them and damaged another.

The air victory ran the 5th air force's toll of enemy jets in three days of air battles to seven shot down, three more probably destroyed and four damaged. No American losses were reported.

On the ground, U.N. attacks into Communist-held areas can be a stone wall enemy defense and vicious counter-attacks. Even one of the heaviest artillery bombardments of the war failed to dislodge the Reds.

On the west-central front, the U.N. forces able to back up their attacks. They used flame throwers to create enemy traps; light tanks from deers and, according to a front dispatch, made some progress.

On the east-central front, an American tank-infantry patrol ran into a heavy rain of 120-millimeter howitzers and 70-millimeter artillery in a valley east of "Heartbreak Ridge" and were forced to retreat.

The third story came from other reports running from the hills north of Seoul in the west to the sea of Japan coast, where the 45,000-ton
